

TECHSHOP

SHOP OWNER

TechShop is in every shop. We support the automotive industry with technical features, reviews, updates and information about the equipment, tools and supplies that shops and technicians depend on every day. We relate to the industry. We know the technicians and we know the shops. We speak in their voice, and we give them the real world in our technical features and in our personality, with commentary and stories that resound in the automotive community. With a broad reach through print and digital, we continuously expand and evolve our portfolio of products to meet the needs of the industry, both in content and in distribution. The future moves fast, and TechShop will be there to keep up the pace with industry-leading concepts and powerful thinking to align your products with our audience, both today and tomorrow. As the TechShop brand continues to evolve, its content will appear in ShopOwner magazine each month, providing both independent repair facilities and tire dealers with important equipment and tool information.
